

COFFEE & CONVERSATION

Maven Leather Founder, Emma Thieme, bounced around her home state of Maine, from 2015 to 2020, building her name as a leatherworker and designer.

In Jan. 2020, Emma left Maine to live out of her van and sell her leatherwork across the country. She found herself on the Central Coast of California, took a leap of faith and decided to stay. She opened her leather studio and showroom in Cayucos, CA.

Join us as we discuss her journey from creator to small business owner.
